PULL OUT ALL THE

Salvatore Ferragamo

by Roberta Naas

The new year provides an opportunity for designers, jewelers and watchmakers to pull out all the stops — and so should you. In clothing — even though it may be cold outside — the fashion inside is sexy, steamy and alluring, with sleeveless or barely-there sleeves, and fun, flirty, even feathery shawls and throws. Color is important, too, with jewel tones of citrine, amethyst, emerald and sapphire reigning supreme. Fabrics are a mix of sheers over all sorts of basics for a look and feel that is at once cozy yet inviting.

All of this mixes oh so nicely with Earth's favorite gemstone — the diamond. In fact, diamond jewelry and watches are all the rage this season as they reflect the icy beauty outside but none of the its chilly feel inside. Diamond-adorned watches run the gamut from simple rounds to florals, geometrics and some things in between. Live it up a little this season — don't leave all the ice outside.
